

Dear TLW Members:

An important reminder regarding the law as it relates to sale of alcohol during the Executive Order. Alcohol can only be sold for consumption off the premise in the original unopened container. It is not legal to sell mixed drinks to go i.e:old fashioned, margaritas, bloody mary's. It is legal to sell a growler of beer in its proper container. Under the Executive Order it is not legal to consume any alcohol on a licensed premise. You can sell beer or alcohol to go but it must be in its original unopened container. That was the law prior to the Executive Order and it remains the law during the Executive Order.

Thank you
